HONOR SCHOOL AT PRESS MEET IN PALO ALTO

Jefferson Union Hi Is Chosen
Head Of Academic Newspaper Association

Jefferson Union High School was chosen president of the Central California Scholastic Press Association at the annual convention held at Stanford University, Saturday of last week.

It is the first time that Jefferson has been selected for this honor. To-tem Pole Advisor Clive M. Saiz, was elected president of the Advisors Association. The Central California Scholarship Press Association covers the area north of Santa Maria and numbers all of the high schools in this vast section in its membership.

Outstanding speakers on the program were Kathleen Norris, distinguished journalist; Royal A. Gunnison, Christian Science Monitor representative; Robert Garred, in charge of radio news, KSFO, San Francisco; and John Thompson of the San Francisco News.

The faculty advisors followed a slightly different program from the students, and at 2 p. m., they listened to an address by Dr. Graham Stuart, professor of political science at Stanford.

In his talk, Dr. Stuart stated there was a great similarity between conditions now and those in 1914. Armaments are heavier now than they were then. At that time two and a half billion dollars were invested in arms; there are now eleven billions being spent for arms. Millions are being drilled all over Europe. This startling statement was also made by Dr. Stuart: "The League of Nations has the machinery to stop any war if the nations wish to enforce it. It is an agency far greater than anything in 1914."

Mrs. Kathleen Norris, famed journalist, spoke on "Creative Writing." In her talk she told many points of her life, connected with journalism. She also gave advice which she said could be used in fields other than in writing, as in the following: "Realize that you will be thrown several times a year, but don't let it take effect. A personality is important in writing. Give your best for the present and new inspirations will always come."

Mrs. Norris gave the audience food for thought when she stated that four or five in the present gathering could reach fame in years to come. She explained this by saying that the law of averages demanded it. She especially stressed the fact that one should write on schedule and not when he is in the mood.

The address especially enjoyed by Jefferson students, "Writing for Radio," was made by Robert Garred, who is in charge of radio news on Station KSFO. "Radio writing" is an open field for those with talent. A leading station can at this moment use four adept script and program writers. In the course of his talk, Mr. Garred said that he personally arranges the Sam Hayes news casts when Mr. Hayes is in San Francisco. Illustrating a few points, he read to the assemblage the script of several news casts. Mr. Garred's voice, which carried to all present is clearly an asset to him in radio work.

ANNUAL DRIVE OF RED CROSS IS UNDER WAY

Brisbane Workers "Cover" Town In Campaign For Members And Donations

Brisbane Red Cross workers, directed by the central committee here, launched a concerted drive yesterday toward helping the county realize its quota of 6500 new members by Thanksgiving Day.

"Such thriving little communities as Brisbane enable Red Cross chapters all over the United States to carry on their great relief program," said Miss Helen Chesebrough, county roll call chairman.

"We look forward to Brisbane's support in this roll call."

Red Cross leaders point out that there are approximately 100,000 residents in San Mateo County and that a quota of 6500 Red Cross enrollments from such a population should be reached without trouble if real support is given the organization.

They're Off At Tanforan!

The fall season of racing will get into action at the home track, Tuesday of next week, November 16, to continue for 25 days—each week day excepting Mondays. The closing date will be on Saturday, December 18, with the running of the San Francisco Handicap with $10,000 added. Nine other handicaps are slated and the running of the California Lassie Stakes, with $5000 added, will occur on Tuesday, December 14.

TWO KILLED BY AUTO AS THEY CROSS STREET

Pedestrians Struck In Dark Spot At Intersection With Fatal Results

While in the act of crossing Alameda boulevard at Bayshore highway, Saturday evening of last week, two pedestrians lost their lives in an automobile accident when struck by a car traveling west.

Joseph O'Farrell, 54, of 157 Boonte street, San Francisco, was instantly killed.

His companion, Thomas Carney, 47, of the same address, suffered fractures of both legs. He succumbed to his injuries, Sunday, at San Francisco Hospital, where he was taken after being felled by the machine.

The driver of the car, Earle Young of 325 Halloway avenue, San Francisco, stopped and placed the victims in his machine and conveyed them to the hospital. He was at first charged with negligent homicide, but was later released, as police declared the accident to have been unavoidable.

PRESIDENT IN PROCLAMATION OF THANKSGIVING

Says We Cherish No Selfish Designs Against Any Other Countries

President Roosevelt, in a Thanksgiving proclamation this week, gave voice, among other things, to the following thoughts:

"A period unhappily marked in other parts of the world by strife and threats of war finds our people enjoying the blessing of peace. We have no selfish designs against other nations."

"We have been fortunate in devoting our energies to our resources to constructive purposes and useful works. We have sought to fulfill our obligation to use our national heritage by common effort for the common good."

"The harvests of our fields have been abundant and many men and women have been given the blessing of stable employment," he concluded: "Let us, therefore, on the day appointed, forego our usual occupations and, in our accustomed places of worship, each in his own way, humbly acknowledge the mercy of God from whom comes every good and perfect gift."

GAINS ARE SHOWN IN STATE BIRTH RATE

The State Department of Public Health has reported the arrival of 44,313 new citizens, during the first six months of 1937, an increase of 4232 over the corresponding period in 1936. There were 22,939 boys and 21,374 girls.

Remember Those Who Can Be Saved

This week we celebrated the nineteenth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice.

During the great conflict more than 50,000 Americans lost their lives. But here is something else to think about: In the 19 years since the Armistice, nearly 500,000 men, women and children have been killed on our streets and highways!

As we reverently remember the boys who gave their lives in the World War, let us also remember all the lives that can be saved through a more careful use of the streets and highways.—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

EIGHT CARS IN HIGHWAY CRASH AT SAN MATEO

Beginning With Pile Up Of Two Machines And Ending
With That Grand Total

Beginning with just another two car collision, Saturday night of last week, the crash developed into a series of pile ups in which eight machines were involved and three persons were more or less seriously injured.

The mixup occurred at Howard avenue and the Boyshore highway at San Mateo, about 8 o'clock in the evening.

The thing started when a truck driven by Peter Tiscani, San Francisco, crashed into a car driven by 16-year old John McNally, 612 South Eldorado streets, San Mateo, as McNally was attempting to cross the highway.

Mrs. Rose Camilli, a passenger in the truck was severely cut and

Five Injured In Crash At Belmont

Betty L. Fowler, 1450 University avenue, Palo Alto, was treated at Mills Memorial hospital late yesterday afternoon when the car she was driving collided with that driven by Mrs. Louise M. Findley, Oak Knoll drive, Belmont, at the intersection of Notre Dame and Belburn avenues in Belmont.

Three children, Shirley, Tom, and Bill Findlay, who were riding with Mrs. Findlay, received cuts and bruises, but were not considered seriously injured.

Miss Fowler, at first believed seriously injured when she was taken to the hospital unconscious, was released later in the day.

NEW HIGHWAY LOCAL OFFICE NOW COMPLETED PLANS GUIDE FOR BRISBANE

Yesterday the new 5.6 mile section of the Ocean Shore Highway, constructed during the past 15 months at a cost of $375,000, was thrown open for traffic.

The old tortuous Pedro Mountain sector of the coast road will be left open for travel by those who must use it and for those who wish to drive the scenic although steep and winding route again, but the main travel between Edgemar and Moss Beach will be routed over the new, wide gently sloping highway that skirts the ocean.

Providing a fast coast route, the new road, although as yet unpaved, will allow motorists to travel from Half Moon Bay to San Francisco in 35 minutes.

The Pedro Mountain link, one of several in the San Francisco-Santa Cruz highway, cost the state $250,000, San Mateo County $24,000, Santa Cruz County $48,000 and San Francisco County $51,000.

CONGRESSMAN NOW ON WAY TO WASHINGTON

Expects To Arrive At Capital
City In Time To Answer
Roll Call When Congress
Convenes Next Month

Congressman John J. McGrath, accompanied by Mrs. McGrath and daughter Maureen, is en route to Washington, having departed from San Mateo yesterday evening.

Before leaving the Congressman said that he believed the Peninsula to have an even chance to obtain the $15,000,000 naval supply depot, as against competition from the Oakland side.

He said that he thought the plans now in the hands of the commandant of the Twelfth Naval District Admiral Arthur St. Clair Smith are equally as good as as those submitted by the Oakland backers.

Both Congressmen McGrath and Richard J. Welch have declared that they will fight for a proposition to erect the base on this side of the bay to the finish.

Brisbane Scores In Campaign For Community Church

Religious minded Brisbanites heard Dr. Smith, president of the Bay Union organization, and Dr. Thomas, president of the Home Missionary Society, promise generous donations for the establishment of a community church here. The meeting was held at the residence of Mrs. F. R. Gall.

Local Baptists are sponsoring the campaign for a new edifice. After the session, the group enjoyed refreshments served by Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Holiday and Mrs. Fogarty.

Annis Realty Company Considers Formulation Of Residential Index

Tentative arrangements are being drawn up by the Annis Realty Company to provide the public with a regular residential and property guide book.

The directory will comprise the entire Brisbane area and serve as an index to those who wish to find their way around, to discover by the simple flip of a page the whereabouts of the persons for whom they are looking.

HEALTH NURSE IN ADDRESS TO HIGH STUDENTS

Stresses Advantages To Citizens Of Frequent Visits To Families In The Rural Districts

"The work that the Red Cross does in San Mateo County" was the subject of the address delivered by Mrs. Opal Fennell, Red Cross nurse, to the students of the Jefferson Union High School, Monday afternoon of this week.

She said the Red Cross gives direct relief to ex-soldiers, helps the blind and performs many civilian services.

The speaker stressed the importance of the rural school nurse who goes into the home where there is sickness, takes care of the patient and teaches the family what to do until she returns. She remains as long as is necessary to care for the patient. The regular charge is $1.25 or as much of this as the patient is able to pay. This service does not pay for itself and depends on the contributions of the public.

Classes in home hygiene and the care of the sick are taught to adults at a moderate cost. Anyone interested in these classes can obtain information from the high school or the junior college. This course is taught by graduate public health nurses, and it is much like the extension courses given at the junior college.

Miss Juanita Young, physical educational instructor, introduced Mrs. Fennell to the audience.

QUEEN MARY ADOPTS RAIN SHOE IDEA

Queen Mary recently ordered a pair of transparent galoshes to wear over her shoes in open air functions during the winter months in London.

They will keep her feet dry when she stands about on damp ground or walks over the wet grass, while wearing smart clothes at ceremonial functions.

ARRAY OF FAST FOOTERS HEADED FOR TANFORAN

Stars Of Contests On Eastern Tracks This Season To Be Seen In Action Here

Seabiscuit and Heffly—the two stars which recently dead-heated the Laurel Stakes in Maryland—will clash at Tanforan, it became known this week. Word was received that the T. P. Morgan horses, headed by Heffly, would be campaigned at the 25-day fall meeting here, which whirls into action, Tuesday of next week, November 16.

Heffly arrived at Santa Anita several days ago, after having been taken suddenly ill en route from Maryland. His illness, it developed, was not as serious as at first thought.

Veterinarians who were rushed to meet the western bound train at Arizona, declared that Heffly quickly responded to treatment and is now again in normal condition.

Seabiscuit, leading money winner of the year and ranked as one of America's best horses in recent years, is scheduled to ship the coming Sunday, heading the powerful stable of Charles S. Howard, which also includes the handicap winner, Advocate.

Howard has special quarters at Tanofran and Seabiscuit has always been trained over a racing strip here for all of his northern California races. He captured the $10,000 added Marchbank Handicap here last spring.

Both Heffly and Seabiscuit will be pointed for the $10,000 added San Francisco Handicap, December 18, at a mile and a sixteenth. It is likely, however, they will both be given preparatory races first.

Coincident with the news of Heffly's intended campaign, was the word received that Neil S. McCarthy, southern California breeder, was shipping up the one-time stakes star and stallion, Tick On, for another campaign at Tanforan. Particularly partial to the well cushioned footing at the San Bruno course, Tick On raced with distinction here last fall.

Also included in the McCarthy shipment is the fast two-year-old filly, Muse, which will be pointed for the $5,000 added Lassie Stakes, December 14.

STATE HARBOR BOARD OFFERS SITE FOR BASE

Location Near Hunters Point
Said To Be Feasible Location For Improvement

A site for a gigantic base at India Beach, in San Francisco, was this week tendered to the United States Navy Department, the offer coming from the Board of State Harbor Commissioners, subject to enabling legislation.

When the offer was made to Rear Admiral A. St. Clair Smith, U. S. N., Twelfth naval district commandant it was pointed out that the government might spend $15,000,000 in construction work. Such an appropriation would be fought for by Congressman John J. McGrath of San Mateo County, Richard Welch of San Francisco and others, it was declared.

It was pointed out that Marin County has its Hamilton Field, Sunnyvale its dirigible base, and the East Bay its naval air base at Alameda, and it was thought that the Peninsula now deserved the naval supply depot.

The area offered was valued at $504,000, including land just north of Hunters Point, just outside of San Mateo County. The site, as well as Candlestick Point in San Mateo, was studied by Senator David Walsh and his committee, recently.

San Franciscans Are Guests Here

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Richards of San Francisco were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Richards of Brisbane last Sunday. The two men are brothers.

Monday of this week marked the third anniversary of the Brisbane-Bayshore bus line system, which is operated by the local couple.

REDDY FOX by Thornton W. Burgess

REDDY FOX IS LAUGHED AT

REDDY FOX was miserable. Yes, sir, Reddy Fox was miserable. To be continually laughed at is enough to make any one miserable. No one ever likes to be laughed at unless they are trying to make people laugh at them. Reddy Fox wasn't doing anything of that kind. Oh my, no! No, indeed! Reddy considers himself a very fine gentleman and so, of course, he wouldn't think of doing anything to make people laugh at him. But they did laugh at him just the same, even the very smallest, and it was all because of the way he ran from Buster Bear with Jumper the Hare right at his heels. You see everybody pretended to believe that it was from Jumper that he was running away.

So Reddy was very miserable. If he went down on the Green Meadows Danny Meadow Mouse would be sure to call out:

"Mr. Reddy has a scare at the shadow of a hare."

Then Danny would laugh in the most provoking manner, and hide where Reddy could not get at him. If he went up to the Old Orchard he was sure to hear from Johnny Chuck:

"When Jumper gets him on the go Reddy's anything-but slow."

Then Johnny would dive into the he grew angry they laughed, and the angrier he grew the harder they laughed. Of course that wasn't at all nice of them. But they didn't stop to think of that. Not one of them loves Reddy Fox, and now that they had a chance to get even with him for all the frights he had given them, and for all the mean things he had done to them, they were just bound to make the most of it. You see it didn't enter their heads that they might be making trouble for some one else. All they thought of was making Reddy Fox feel miserable.

But it is not very often that you or I or anybody else can make trouble for just one person. Did you ever think of that? It's so. You go ask Jumper the Hare. All Jumper's friends were laughing at Reddy Fox, and shouting mean things at him and calling him a coward, because they knew it made Reddy feel uncomfortable and miserable. It didn't once enter their heads that they were making trouble for any one else. Yet they were. They were making a lot of trouble for some one else, and that some one was Jumper the Hare.

house and all Reddy could do would be to grit his teeth.

If he went down to the Smiling Pool he would no sooner come in sight of Jerry Muskrat than Jerry would shout:

"Reddy, Reddy, you watch out! Jumper's somewhere hereabout."

Then Jerry would laugh in the most provoking way and Reddy couldn't do a thing, because Jerry would be swimming with only his head out of water.

If he went to the Green Forest he would be sure to hear Unc' Billy Possum's funny chuckle from some tree overhead and then Unc' Billy would say:

"Ah, come hear say it fo' a fac'. Who runs away will sho' come back."

Then all Reddy could do would be to grind his teeth and tell Unc' Billy what dreadful things he would do to him if he ever caught him.

Now, of course, all that the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows did these things for was to tease Reddy Fox. When

FALL DAYS ARE THE SAUSAGE DAYS

Once Just Breakfast Dish, Now It Spreads Out.

By EDITH M. BARBER

SAUSAGE has risen in the world. While its association with breakfast still remains, it is now allowed on the luncheon and supper menus. Of course, there was one exception to the old rule, as sausage has always been allowed to serve as a sort of a garnish for turkey or as a stuffing for other fowl.

The business woman housekeeper gives sausage, however, a star role, and when crisp fall days arrive she will occasionally choose it, as it demands only a short time for its cooking.

Sausage in cakes and sausage in links, whichever is preferred, may be used. There is no trick about cooking the first. Link sausage, however, needs special treatment to prevent the bursting of the casing. Of course, each link may be pricked with a fork, but I find it easier to allow sausage to cook in its own fat either in a covered pan on top of the stove or in an uncovered pan in the oven. In the first case, a low flame should be used for the first five minutes, after which the heat may be increased so that each link may be a golden brown.

Fried apples seem to belong with sausage when served as a main course. Some of the fat which liquefies as the sausage cooks may be used for cooking the apples in another frying pan. Instead you may like to make your main dish a combination of sausage and scrambled eggs, each of which seems to bring out the flavor of the other. And once in a while you will probably have to humor the family by giving them griddle cakes even at supper time with their sausage. Try these:

Sausage With Cream Gravy.

- 1 pound sausage
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups milk

Cook the sausages (if you use sausage meat, form into small cakes before cooking) in a heavy frying pan, tightly covered over a low heat for ten minutes. Then increase the heat until each link is brown. Remove sausages and all but four tablespoons of the fat. Add the flour and when well blended, add the milk slowly, cook one minute, add sausages and reheat. Season with salt and pepper if necessary.

Sausage and Apples.

- 6 sweet potatoes
- 3 apples
- 1 pound link sausage

Boil the potatoes until soft and place in a greased dripping pan; pare, core and slice the apples and place between the potatoes. Place the sausage across the potatoes and bake in a hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit) until the sausage is crisp.

MORE GOOD RECIPES

Scalloped Oysters.

- 5 tablespoons butter
- 4 cups soft bread crumbs
- 1 1/4 teaspoons salt
- Pepper
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 pint oysters

Melt the butter, add crumbs and seasonings and mix well. Drain oysters and arrange in alternate layers with the buttered crumbs in a greased baking dish. Bake twenty minutes in a hot oven, 450 degrees Fahrenheit.

Mint Jelly.

- 1 cup mint leaves and stems
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1 cup water
- 3 1/2 cups sugar
- Green coloring
- 1/2 bottle fruit pectin

Wash mint. Measure into a saucepan and press with potato masher. Add vinegar, water and sugar and bring to a boil over a hot fire. While mixture is coming to a boil, add coloring to give desired shade. As soon as mixture boils, stir in fruit pectin, bring to a hard boil and continue boiling for half a minute. Remove from fire and skim. Strain jelly into clean, hot glasses. Cover with an eighth of an inch layer of paraffin. Yield—five to six six-ounce glasses.

Escarole Milani.

Remove tough outer leaves of many heads of escarole, wash and cook until tender. Drain and cut coarsely. Sauté one tablespoon minced onion in a little olive oil three minutes. Add drained escarole, pepper, salt and a generous amount of vinegar or lemon juice. Garlic may be used instead of the

But stand a girl up for fifteen minutes and she wanders off to buy a pair of stockings and then innocently tells you the next day that she waited for simply hours.

They're fed up. And so it's time we made a rule. Really, you know, a man shouldn't be asked to wait for more than half an hour. Well, anyhow, not more than fifty-five minutes.

First Aid to the Ailing House

UNSTEADY WATER LEVEL

A HOME owner is likely to be disturbed when he finds that the water in the gauge glass of his steam boiler is in violent action; that it does not remain at a steady level. The common cause for this is dirt and oil in the water. The effect is to cut down the efficiency of the boiler, to make heating less effective, and possibly to expose the boiler to damage.

With a newly installed heating system, oil used in making the pipe connections eventually works back to the boiler and makes trouble. And not only oil; dirt in the pipes is also carried down. A new boiler should be cleaned a week or so after it has gone into service. Some months later there should be another cleaning. After that, if the water used is reasonably clean, the boiler should run for many seasons before a repetition is needed.

Cleaning a boiler consists of using a cleaning compound that has the property of absorbing oil. The compound should not dissolve; it should be of such a nature that its particles, in circulating through the boiler, will have a grinding effect on scale and hardened sediment. The compound should remain in the boiler for a week or so when the fire is burning. The boiler should then be drained. The drain valve of a boiler is usually too small for the violent flow that would carry out the sediment. To assist matters, water under city pressure should be flushed through the boiler. A connection can be made at the safety valve opening; another at the lower connection of the gauge glass, which is to be unscrewed from the boiler wall; a third at the water supply connection.

Many compounds are offered as boiler cleaners, but only a few of them are really effective. Washing soda is sometimes used, but is of little practical benefit. The boiler manufacturer can be asked to make a recommendation. An old established and reliable steam fitter is likely to recommend a compound that he knows to be effective rather than one that offers him a good profit.

When the water level is seen to be unsteady, a pint or so of boiler water should be drawn off and heated in a saucepan. If it comes to a boil in the normal way, the boiler does not need cleaning. But if the water foams and sputters, cleaning is necessary, for there are substances in the water that check efficient operation.

A home owner can clean his boiler; but in general, it is best to have the job done by a professional.

Pride in Perfection

A GREAT deal of the joy of life comes in doing perfectly, or at least to the best of one's ability, everything which he attempts to do.

There is a sense of satisfaction, a pride in surveying such a work—a work which is rounded, full, exact, complete in all its parts—which the superficial man, who leaves his work in a slovenly, slipshod, half-finished condition, can never know.

It is this conscientious completeness which turns work into art. The smallest thing, be it well done, becomes artistic.—William Matthews.

Obstacles Temporary

When you get into a tight place and everything goes against you, till it seems as though you could not hold on a minute longer, never give up then, for that is just the place and time that the tide will turn.—Harriet Beecher Stowe.

WOMEN WHO HOLD THEIR MEN NEVER LET THEM KNOW

NO matter how much your back aches and your nerves scream, your husband, because he is only a man, can never understand why you are so hard to live with one week in every month.

Too often the honeymoon express is wrecked by the nagging tongue of a three-quarter wife. The wise woman never lets her husband know by outward sign that she is a victim of periodic pain. For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife; take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

This Game Called Football Has Many Confusing Angles

THIS game called football: Notre Dame and Marquette tied for three consecutive games from 1909 to 1911. In 1912 the Irish won, 69 to 0.

Year after year Pittsburgh has one of the nation's superior teams. But it has been seventeen years since the Panthers have had an undefeated team, nineteen years since they have had an undefeated and untied team, and twenty-seven years since they have had an undefeated, untied and unscored upon team.

So you're a football expert, eh? Then:

1.—Name the coach at Iowa university.

2.—What is the "Coffin Corner"?

3.—What time out is permitted between the first and second quarters of a game, between the third and fourth quarters, between the second and third quarters?

4.—What college team is nicknamed "The Friars"?

5.—Name the "Four Horsemen" and what they are doing now.

Sure, you knew them all along, but here are the answers, anyhow:

1—Irl Tubbs of William Jewell college.

2.—The angle formed by the side line and the goal line.

3.—One minute between the first and second periods and the third and fourth periods. Fifteen minutes between the halves.

4.—Providence college of Providence, R. I.

From a Pennsylvania gentleman who so often makes this weekly football piece so easy to write:

"Football is some game! It lasts but three months, yet symbolizes college activity for the whole year. It's just an amateur sport, yet puts hundreds of boys through colleges, supplies employment to thousands and provides a good living for hundreds of coaches. It supports the athletic programs for other games, yet is played by but twenty-five to fifty boys per school. It builds stadiums, but pays no cash to the participants (theoretically, at least).

"Its 'All-America' teams are dominated by foreign-sounding names. It's the roughest game in America, but girls love it. It's witnessed by millions each week, yet only a few hundred really understand it. It reaches its apex in the picking of 'All-America' teams when every honest fan knows one team can't honor all the best players.

"Football is some game!—for contradiction."

Gloomy Gil Had Ace Record at Navy

When Gil Dobie was coaching at Navy, the Middies defeated Ursinus, 12 to 0, in 1918. Next year they slapped a 121 to 0 score on Colby.

Gil Dobie

Columbia went twenty-one years without getting a man on the All-American. From the time Richard S. Smith was named at fullback in 1903 until Wally Koppisch got the halfback call in 1924.

The ball wasn't equipped with handles forty years ago, either. In 1896 Penn's great guard, Willy Woodruff, fumbled five times within Lafayette's 10-yard line, and Penn lost, 6 to 4.

There has been considerable misunderstanding of the Graham plan by which the president of the University of North Carolina has been seeking to remove some of the hypocrisy from college sports. Perhaps a letter from a member of the North Carolina faculty best explains the university head's aims:

"President Graham is anxious to see to it that scholarships and other help to athletes shall be granted on the same terms as those on which similar favors are granted to other students. Under the Graham plan the student is required to submit a sworn statement of all monies and other help received by him together with the names of the donors. I might add in passing that since the application of this plan to our local athletic situation, there has been no great falling off in our athletic standing."

NOT IN THE BOX SCORE:

YALE football trainer Frank Wanle gets a higher salary than either Ducky Pond or Greasy Neale, the head coaches. . . . Tennessee's football admirers still are squawking something awful about the officiating during that Alabama defeat. . . . Although he has little time for baseball now, Jordan Oliver, the young Staten island giant who plays so much tackle for Villanova, was being watched by big league scouts while still in high school. . . . Ralph Wolfe, Ohio State center and captain, played 430 minutes out of a possible 480 last year. . . . Ohio State, by the way, cleaned up a cool 40 G's on that trip to California even though losing to U. S. C.

Although six more eminent football universities were after him and his dad was willing, young John McLaughry, who is most of the Brown team, refused to listen. "I can solve at least part of your problems, Pop, and my place is here," classmates quote him as having told Coach Tuss McLaughry. . . . During the five years their teams have clashed a Mylin-coached Lafayette outfit never has lost to one coached by Pop Warner.

His polo friends say the duke of Windsor is in better standing with British bigwigs than the press indicates. Say he really is making those trips, including the one to the United States, for propaganda purposes. Sort of a hands across the sea gesture from a popular guy in case our cousins need help later on, you know. . . . Jockey Willie Obert, who still is riding around Rockingham park, is forty-seven years old and weighs 105 pounds. . . . Retired Jockey Silvio Cucchi is so busy playing golf that he doesn't even visit the tracks nowadays. . . . Eastern horsemen are changing their minds about racing at Santa Anita this winter. They put the blame on California's insistence upon displaying its native son spirit. . . . Debaters of the pari-mutuels vs. books proposition are noting that Jim Butler's Laurel, Maryland, pari-mutuel course is for sale while business continues brisk at his bookmaking Empire City.

Pro Golfers Relax as Pro Football Fans

After a strenuous summer of golf, Pros Jimmy Thomson and Horton Smith are seeking relaxation by watching big-time football games.

Ohio State misses Frank Cumiskey, the end now starring for Brooklyn's pro Dodgers. Against Michigan, last fall, he made three consecutive tackles to hold the foe on the oneyard line. Then, later, caught a forward pass for the first touchdown.

Peter Bradley, Princeton miler who came so fast last summer, is running cross country to toughen his legs. He believes he can do 4:10 on the boards this winter and that he may get under 4:06 before June. . . . His friends are hoping Paul Runyan soon will learn all there is to know about rhumba-ing and so resume his proper place as one of the nation's top pro golfers.

Credit the good old Dodgers with a big assist in keeping Pie Traynor's Pittsburgh managerial job for him. The team's late season spurt earned Pie another chance. Players insist the main reason for the spurt was the spark plug playing of Catcher Ray Berres, who was hauled in from Louisville where Brooklyn had traded him for Gibby Brack. . . . Keep an eye on Maxie Farber, the young Ghetto lightweight who has been coming along so nicely. . . . The boys claim Jesse James, Hollywood Greek grappler, came near giving Danno O'Mahoney the "business" the other night. . . . Murray Brazen of the Dusek offices is trying to organize a team of wrestlers to play pro football.

Joe DiMaggio's Ma has become an ardent baseball fan. Had an interpreter translate the World Series reports into Italian so that she could appreciate them properly. . . . Quip by Rogers Hornsby after hearing Michigan State had defeated the Missouri eleven, 2 to 0: "They sure must use the dead ball in that league, too." . . . One of the railroads estimates it lost $25,000 worth of business when the Giants, instead of the Cubs, won the National league pennant. . . . Bob Feller confides that his off-season desire is to catch up on his sleep. "I'm sure tired," the famed youngster tells reporters. . . . Best minor league managing job of the year was done by former Dodger Jake Flowers who, in his first try as a pilot, won the Eastern Shore league pennant for Salisbury.

Harry Balogh, the fight announcer, started as a jewelry salesman and made his announcing debut at Grupp's gym. . . . Frank Doc Bagley, the famed handler of boxers, is doing nicely after an operation performed on an abscessed left eye. . . . Ralph Chong, the boxer, donates part of each purse to Chinese war sufferers. . . . The Louis-Farr movies were a worse flop than the fight.

International leaguers doubt that Second Baseman Gordon is ready to replace Tony Lazzeri in the Yankee infield next season. They whisper that the Yankees really are whooping it up for the kid in the hope that they can peddle him to Brooklyn for a fancy price.

CALIFORNIA News of the Week

Tom Mooney Appeal Denied
San Francisco.—After 20 years, California courts have closed their doors to Thomas J. Mooney. The State Supreme Court, in a five to one decision, rejected his plea for a writ of habeas corpus. Denying his contention that he had been convicted of the 1916 Preparedness day parade bombing by testimony perjured with the knowledge of prosecuting authorities, the court held he not only had a fair trial but the subsequent efforts to prove it unfair were surrounded with indications they were "corruptly inspired." The decision leaves Mooney to further recourse in the courts of California, a condition the United States Supreme Court said would have to be met before it would consider any pleas on his behalf.

Del Norte Wins Title to Island
Crescent City.—Del Norte County was the winner in a court dispute over the ownership of Whaler Island, a three acre rock in the Crescent City Harbor. The United States district court has denied the petition of Eric Lyders, a San Francisco attorney, who asked to have the county appointed as a trustee for his ownership of the island. In effect the decision confirms a land office patent giving the county the island's title. Lyders claimed ownership of the island on the basis of a Valentine scrip issued by the government many years ago and acquired by him about eight years ago. The rock contained in the island is considered essential to the harbor development plans.

President Helps Dedicate Road
Lone Pine.—A new link in the Death Valley-Mt. Whitney Highway is open after dedication by President Roosevelt, who touched a telegraph key at his Hyde Park, N. Y., home. Gov. Frank F. Merriam made a brief address at the ceremonies. A gourd of water from a mountain lake was carried by airplane, pony express, covered wagon, mule team, stage coach, locomotive and automobile over the route covered by the highway to symbolize progress in transportation.

Shortest Car Line Abandoned
Oakland.—The shortest street car line in the world was abandoned last week. The line was the old No. 27 that carried passengers 200 yards to and from the Oakland Mountain View Cemetery for 67 years. Eleven passengers, a large load for the dinky, made the last ride. The passengers were eight members of the California-Nevada Railroad Historical Society, a newspaper photographer, a reporter and a little old lady in black, who carried a great bouquet of flowers wrapped in newspapers.

New Hospital for Del Norte
Crescent City.—A sanatorium for tubercular children is being prepared here by George O. Knapp, a Santa Barbara philanthropist, in a large house on Battery Point. Knapp, who built the Knapp Hospital here and who has performed a number of other philanthropic works locally, is establishing the sanatorium as a means of making available the medical care, rest, and comfort which are essential to tuberculosis patients.

Civil War Veteran Dies
Sheridan (Placer Co.).—Cornelius Lotton, Civil War veteran, died at his home here aged 101 years, five months and eleven days. He is survived by thirty grandchildren, seventeen great grandchildren and one great great grandchild. Upon the occasion of his 100th birthday last year he ascribed his longevity to the fact he drank "rock and rye."

Bobcats Feast on Quail
Porterville.—Deer meat, mountain quail and grouse comprises almost the entire diet of coyotes and bobcats in the mountains near here, according to Carl Tegen, State fish and game division trapper.

Observe 70th Wedding Anniversary
San Gabriel.—Andrew Francis Jackson, 90, and his wife, 87, celebrated their seventieth wedding anniversary here last week.

Black Bears On Increase
Santa Barbara.—Foresters report that there is a growing population of black bears in Los Padres National Forest, back of here.

Every Saturday A Holiday?
Sacramento.—Charles F. Wright, Palo Alto attorney, informed Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan that he may sponsor an initiative measure on the 1938 general election ballot which would make Saturday a holiday. Wright declared: "The new holiday would be known as Recreation day and would give practically everyone a worthwhile week-end." A total of 186,378 qualified voters must sign petitions to qualify an initiative.

NO BASTING

Mrs. Newlywed—The captain must be handy with his needle, dear, as I've heard sailors are. Mr. Newlywed—Why do you think so, pet? Mrs. Newlywed—I just heard him say he was going to trim the sails.

CONVERTED

Missionary—No, I can't give you the right hand of fellowship. You have too many wives. Native—I'm all right now. I had an auction sale and knocked 'em all down to my neighbors at good prices.

Fashion's Triple-Threat

HERE'S something new in the way of triple-threats, Milady: This trio of smart contestants in the thrilling game of Sew-Your-Own! With all three in your wardrobe you'll know stadium style, classroom coquetry, and sorority chic (and when you know these well, Milady, you've come a long way). Best of all, you won't spend a king's ransom nor a "long stretch" in their making, thanks to the economy and simplicity of these modern Sew-Your-Owns!

Sorority Chic. Sorority chic begins and ends in the boudoirs on the third floor. This highly tasteful smock (above left) is a sorority requirement of the first order. You may choose either the short length to work in or the long length to be lazy in. Both are worth their weight in gold but percale, gingham or silk print will substitute nicely.

Classroom Coquetry. What if your knowledge of bugs or battles, or what have you, is limited? You can count on a certain coquettish smile and a certain smooth-lined frock (above center) to take you through any inquisition. It will put the stamp of approval on your appearance indelibly. Try your version in dull crepe or sheer wool.

Stadium Style. Big moments come fast and furious when you're rooting for dear old Alma Mater, but you have to look the part to be one with that glamour and fun. Sew-Your-Own suggests its newest spectator dress just for this purpose—that you may look the part, feel the part and be on the winning side, no matter when or where the competition takes place.

The Patterns. Pattern 1997 is designed in sizes 14 to 20; 32 to 44 bust. Size 16 requires 3½ yards of 35-inch material. In full length 3½ yards (short sleeves).

Muscular Rheumatic Pains

It takes more than "just a salve" to draw them out. It takes a "counter-irritant" like good old Musterole—soothing, warming, penetrating and helpful in drawing out the local congestion and pain when rubbed on the aching spots.

Muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness generally yield promptly. Better than the old-fashioned mustard plaster, Musterole has been used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists. In three strengths: Regular Strength, Children's (mild), and Extra Strong.

GET READY FOR WINTER DRIVING

No section of our population is more dependent upon the automobile as a means of transportation than the residents of the smaller communities and rural districts. Yet each Fall, many car owners cause themselves a great deal of trouble and expense by neglecting one or all of the simple yet necessary steps to assure proper operation of the car in Winter weather.

A minimum Winter protection program should cover:

1. Complete change to correct grade of lubricants for motor, transmission and differential.
2. Motor tuned up, including adjusting of carburetor, valves, distributor, sparkplugs, generator and all electrical equipment.
3. Drain and flush cooling system. Refill with suitable anti-freeze solution.

Selection of motor oil and greases for Winter driving is particularly important. You must select an oil which will permit easy starting, that will lubricate the motor throughout the entire driving range of speeds and will continue to do so for a reasonable mileage.

For many years Quaker State Winter Oils and Greases have been recognized as the highest quality and most generally satisfactory Winter lubricants on the market.

Through Quaker State's highly developed methods and equipment it is possible to produce a motor oil which will have a satisfying body over the 400-degree range of temperature it will meet. That is, when the motor temperature is way below zero, the oil will still be fluid enough to allow the motor to turn easily and also to flow freely to all the bearings. Yet this same oil has enough body to stand up and to give the motor proper lubrication when the temperature inside the cylinder wall reaches 400° and over.

As with any other product you buy, you get what you pay for. An oil of Quaker State quality is necessarily expensive to make. This does not mean, however, that Quaker State is more expensive to use. Being pure, concentrated lubrication, it stands up longer in service. It gives more miles per quart and at the same time gives the bearing surfaces safer protection.

You will want to step into the car, even when the mercury is hiding in the bulb and press the starter with every expectation that the motor will start off with its usual Summer zest. This sure starting, plus motor protection, is only possible by preparedness.—Adv.

Home Heating Hints

By John Barclay Heating Expert

Let Ashpit Damper Regulate Daily Speed At Which You Want Fire To Burn.

IMPROPER adjustment of the turn (or smoke pipe) damper in your furnace results in "chimney" loss of heat. Leave this damper closed as nearly as possible without retarding free burning of fuel or causing gas to escape into the basement.

Once you have found the ideal adjustment for it, be sure you leave it in that position throughout the heating season. Do not attempt to use it from day to day to regulate your fire. It was never meant for that purpose. The only time you need move the Turn Damper is at the start of the very cold season and again at the start of the very mild season. These two times are necessary to meet the extreme changes in outdoor temperature.

Use only the Ashpit Damper and Check Damper for regulating the fire daily—to speed up or slow down the rate at which you want the fire to burn. Rely wholly on these two dampers, and you'll get the proper fire regulation. I repeat—do not change the position of the Turn Damper inside the smoke pipe. Otherwise you'll waste a lot of very valuable fuel and heat.

ROCKAWAY BEACH PEDRO VALLEY

By C. H. T.

A touch of winter in these nights, the ebb of floral tides in our country gardens, and keen winds that search out thin spots in the roof and wide crevices in the windows—by all such signs we know that our "sun-kissed" 1937 summer has gone the way of all summers, and that for the next few months the sun will bestow only fleeting and chilly caresses. But at that, we, of the coast towns, rejoice in being free from the snows and ice of less fortunate regions, so that even a single ton of coal will suffice for a considerable time before the shovel scrapes the bottom of the bin.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tobin, of San Francisco and the great world, spent a few days in their favorite place at Shelter Cove. It must be gratifying to those of us who have pride in our local scenery that people who are at home in all the capitals of the world, and who know so many of the places famed for extraordinary beauty, should delight in the rugged loveliness of this coastside resort, returning again every season to enjoy what it has to offer.

Further efforts are being made to persuade the supervisors to put the Grande avenue road in shape before the rains begin. It is hoped that the matter—and the hill!—will be adjusted promptly. It means much to all property owners using this difficult and dangerous road. The coast-side villages of San Mateo County are a potential asset of such value that it should not be necessary for residents to plead for attention in improving the roads, thus inviting visitors and home buyers to make the region more prosperous by their presence.

Mrs. Johnnie Bicknell had a house full of company over the week end. Her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wilsey of Oakland, and her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Gillis of Stockton, with their daughter—"Midge"—all had a delightful get-together under Mrs. Bicknell's hospitable roof at Rockaway.

Karl Strutz was in charge of a dance given by the Bank Employees Union, Local 21030, of which he is president, last Saturday night, at California Hall, San Francisco. The dance was a decided success. It is said to have attracted over a thousand people. Report states that the hat check room took in $60, even though many guests, of course, left their hats and coats in their parked cars; while the bar figured up business amounting to over $600. One of the patrons is quoted as declaring that "it was a well behaved crowd, without a single disagreement or jarring note the entire evening." All concerned in getting up the dance worked hard to make it the success it turned out to be.

Harry Rees and Irene have a fine new Victrola in their tavern. One of the latest models, it provides the season's favorite tunes for dancers on the broad, smooth floor.

Mayor Roddy's barn has astonished itself with a fresh new coat of paint. The color, now, it white, with green trim and a green roof. Formerly the roof was a pale orange that conflicted with the bold green shamrocks painted on the front, and it made the structure look like the famous "battle of the Boyne" or a skirmish between the north and south of Ireland! Now all is serene. The barn has "gone green." It is definitely committed to its shamrocks and south of the line. Good luck to it; it's a fine barn!

It is one thing to sit in the grand stand with a bag of peanuts to munch and watch the game. But it's quite another thing to be in charge of the pictures of that same game and its players as they dash about from one end of the field to the other. Herman Bryant, chief photographer of the San Francisco News, saw the game, as it were, wrong-side-out, doing the hard work that caught the players in swift action and the excited, roaring crowd watching the points from above. Spread out on the pages of the paper next day, the pictures were a pleasure to the hosts of readers who scanned them. Isn't it so with most professional work? We on the side lines are apt to take

Unemployment Census Cards To Be Distributed Next Tuesday—And Let's Get Them Back On Time

(By Hart Goodrich)

"Somebody said it couldn't be done—and he did it!" So goes that famous poem, and it might apply to John D. Biggers, who is conducting this nation-wide census we are all hearing so much about. "It is impossible to get most people to fill out a card, when they aren't paid to do it, etc., etc." But the present Administration wants to know exactly how much unemployment there is in this country before making any more plans than those in existence for unemployment relief.

It would probably take our Census Bureau five months to collect the unemployment census material and another eight months to get the date in any useable form. The Administration must have it now—in fact, it is expected to have this necessary information tabulated by January.

However, it is most important that every Mr. and Mrs. American Citizen do their small part by filling out the card to be left in their mailbox on next Tuesday, November 16.

Blanks are to be distributed to 31,000,000 families, which is the largest census of its kind ever taken. Only the draft cards, the social security census and the soldiers bonus deliveries are remotely comparable in size to this undertaking.

Immediately following completion of this voluntary enrollment John Biggers is going to conduct, in scientifically selected areas throughout the country, an actual house to house test census under the field direction of especially qualified post office inspectors. These areas will be selected to contain every variety of neighborhood which, added together, should give a true cross sectional picture of national unemployment conditions. This test will encompass about two million people, and it will give him a yard stick by which to check the results of your great voluntary registration. He will compare the number of unemployed who report to the government in all of these test areas, both country and city, with the number of unemployed reported from these same areas as a result of the house to house canvass.

John Biggers undertook this enormous task and he will not accept any salary for it. It is up to every one of us to help him.

"It couldn't be done—and he did it!" Will he? It is up to us.

It is a matter of course, enjoying the results, without considering the complex processes that gave them to us.

"Julia," of the White House Inn at Rockaway, is still in the hospital, after undergoing what is reported as a serious operation. Her friends and neighbors in this locality join in wishing Julia a speedy and comfortable recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCarthy of Los Gatos were guests at Shelter Cove a day last week, at the George Lewis home on the beach. They were warm in their praise of the marvelous scenery, the safe beach and the exhilarating air, and they plan to visit the Cove soon again.

Roy Schwartz and his wife spent the week end at their summer home overlooking Pedro Valley. They are two of the most enthusiastic people in this locality about the possibilities of Pedro, not only as a vacation spot but a permanent year around residence, and they fully expect to prove their belief by building an original house—perched, as it is, on the edge of more splendid scenery than most folks behold in a lifetime!

The Hector Martins are adding a room to their house—that promises much comfort as well as improving the appearance of the home.

Next Simpson Bride Files Reno Divorce

Mrs. Mary Kirk Raffray, who filed suit for divorce in Reno recently against Jacques A. L. Raffray, charging cruelty. Mrs. Raffray, according to reports from Reno, is expected to wed Ernest Simpson, former husband of the Duchess of Windsor. Simpson admitted he planned to marry Mrs. Raffray "in some little town near New York City." The Duchess of Windsor and Mrs. Raffray are friends of long standing.

PURPOSES OF UNEMPLOYMENT CENSUS TOLD

Resume Of Matters To Be Observed In Co-operation With Department

The excerpts printed below are intended for information of the public as to the manner of co-operating in the completion of the unemployment census now being conducted by the government.

Following are portions of the circular issued:

Section II

WHO SHOULD REGISTER?

5. Individual Registration—Each person in every family should fill out and return an individual Unemployment Report Card to the post office if he is included in any of the groups described in the following paragraph entitled, "Persons Who Should Register." An adequate supply of cards should be made available upon request, in order to assure the inclusion in the census of each person who should register.

6. Persons Who Should Register—All persons who are totally unemployed, able to work, and want work. Included in this group are the following: (1) Persons who have worked for pay, who are able to work, and still want work. (2) Persons who formerly had their own business, farm, or professional practice, and no longer work at it, who are able to work, and want work. (3) Persons now looking for their first jobs.

b. All persons who are partly employed, able to do more, and want more work. Included in this group are the following: (1) Persons working part time at regular jobs, who are able to do more work, and want more work. (2) Persons employed part time on irregular work (including casual workers) who are able to do more work, and want more work.

c. All persons working full or part time on projects of WPA, NYA (CCC, or other emergency work projects which are supported by public funds. Included in this group are the following: (1) Persons working on Works Progress Administration projects or on emergency projects of other Federal agencies under the Works Program. (2) Enrollees working in CCC camps. (3) Persons employed on NYA work projects. (4) Persons receiving NYA student aid. (5) Persons working on emergency work projects conducted by state or local

7. Persons Who Should Not Register—The following groups of employed persons should not fill out and return Unemployment Report Cards: (1) Persons who are working full time for wages or commissions, or persons who devote full time to their own business, farm, or professional practice. Note that some of these workers may be looking for another job, but they should not register. (2) Persons who are working part time (except on emergency work projects which are supported by public funds) and who do not want more work. (3) Persons who are on strike unless actively seeking another job. (4) Persons who are temporarily sick or disabled but have a full time job to which they will return as soon as they get well. (5) Persons who are on vacation or are taking time off from a job to which they will return. (6) Administrative employees of WPA, NYA, CCC, or other agencies which are conducting emergency work projects which are supported by public funds.

b. Other groups specifically excluded from registration are: (1) Persons who are unable to work because of permanent disability or chronic illness. (2) Persons who have retired or who do not want work. (3) Young persons excluded from work, because of state child labor laws or local ordinances.

Youth Finds Death Cure For Disease

Told by a doctor he was suffering from tuberculosis, Walter Nicholas, 23, of San Francisco, sent a ring back to his sweetheart, dressed in his best clothes and drove down Skyline boulevard to keep his final appointment—with death.

Saturday night of last week, on an obscure road west of Saratoga, police found the boy, dead in his car, with a hose running from the exhaust to the machine's closed interior.

CURRENT PLAY IS TO REMAIN ANOTHER WEEK

"The Warrior's Husband" Proves One Of Most Popular Of Federal Theater Project Plays

Success of the current play at the Alcazar, "The Warrior's Husband," by Yukian Thompson, is responsible for holding it over for another week. The closing date is now definitely set for Sunday night, November 21.

This hilarious comedy has established a new attendance record for the San Francisco Federal Theater Project. It is elaborately mounted and has won the approval of thousands, including practically all of the drama critics.

"The Warrior's Husband" will be followed into the Alcazar by John Galsworthy's great drama "Justice." This play will have an excellent cast according to Ralph Froud, director.

SKID CONTROL

gives you
DRIVING SAFETY
never before available

With its HUNDREDS OF ADDITIONAL SHARP-EDGED TREAD UNITS, the De-9skidded U. S. Royal Master has introduced a new degree of safe, positive control over all wet weather skidding hazards. The clean-cut, sharp edges bite through slippery road film—wipe the water away—eliminate the very cause of skidding by giving every inch of the tread a safe, dry road contact. Only Royal Master has so many hundreds of gripping edges in both directions... only Royal Master gives complete control from both forward and side skids.

Free ONE-MINUTE TEST SHOWS HOW IT WORKS

See Skid Control demonstrated on dripping wet glass. Then take a 10-minute ride in our demonstration car. Discover how Royal Master controls forward skids on steep, wet hills and glassy-smooth car tracks. Learn how it controls side skids on hairpin curves in wet weather. This demonstration costs you nothing. See us today!

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD
Fern Leaf Camp No. 808, W.O.W., held a very successful whist party, Wednesday evening, November 3, at the Community Center Hall. The horseshoe league game held recently between Fern Leaf and Redwood Camp teams was won by Fern eLaf, 4 to 2. Our team leads and it looks as though it will again be the champion of the W.O.W. League. The district managers are still securing new candidates for a class to be held shortly.

A campaign is being launched to secure juniors for the Log Cabin Camp. Children from two to sixteen years of age are admitted; for information inquire of the clerk, Charles A. Louis, Randolph 4186.

ATHLETICS

The Bonvitas Club, Inc., organized for Social and Athletic purposes will hold a monster whist party at its large and spacious hall at 111 Raymond avenue, one block west of Bay Shore boulevard, Thursday evening, November 18.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Visitacion Valley Community Center has again called for committees to meet for making arrangements for the annual Christmas tree event for the children of Visitacion Valley, last year over 700 children attended the party. All clubs, lodges and associations, businessmen and churches send delegates to this committee.

St. Johns Parish Announces Whist

Plans have been completed for the annual Thanksgiving Turkey party to be held Thursday evening of next week, in the halls of St. Johns Parish located on St. Marys avenue near Mission street.

Many valuable prizes, including orders for turkeys will be awarded. The whist game will be conducted in the main hall and will commence at 7:45.

BAYSHORE NEWS

The whst party given by the Bayshore P.T.A. last Friday evening in the Voters League Hall was a great success, as reported by Mrs. M. Toich, who was chairman for the evening. First prize was won by Ernest Durbin of Bayshore.

A whist party will be given by the Traffic Boys of Bayshore, Friday evening, November 19, in the Voters' League Hall under the direction of Captain Bob Grimes and Chief of Police Williams. The committee working with them are Mrs. Dorothy Cox and Harry Smith. Proceeds will go to purchase rain coats and hats and a banner for the school.

Mrs. Henry Luhrs, formerly of Bayshore and now living in her new home in San Bruno, entertained a group of ladies from Bayshore last Tuesday for luncheon. After the delicious luncheon, the ladies spent the afternoon playing Bingo. First prize was won by Mrs. A. Herrmann, "booby" by Mrs. Irene Compton. A second "installment" of ladies will be entertained next week on the same day by Mrs. Luhrs. Present were: Mesdames Bishop, Weinberg, Huchings, Wentworth, Compton, Lawson, Herrmann, Cain, Smith, Brown, Filarski, Parker, Mardecich, Patchen, Dietrick, Pasini, Spratten and Luhrs. Miss Barbara Patchen and Master Arthur Dietrick were also in the party.

A bazaar will be given by the ladies of the Auxiliary of the Bayshore Voters' League on the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, November 17, and it is suggested to the ladies of the community to omit preparation of dinner on that night and dine with the League at 6:30 p. m. There will be on sale many fine items for the household and Christmas giving and also a large assortment of cakes, candy and other foodstuffs.

On Thursday, December 2, will be the regular monthly meeting of the League when nomination and election of officers will be held. A roll call of the more than two hundred members will be held and it is hoped that many will answer when called. After the business of the regular meeting a Criticism Night with "kangaroo court and jury" will be held; so if you want fun it will be available. Of course, the old league hospitality will be on hand also and refreshments will be served as usual.

Mrs. Jerry Toich and Mrs. Bertha Hughes accompanied the Girl Scouts to Pacific City last Monday evening on a skating expedition. The girls reported a very good time was had by all.

Don't forget the annual roll call for the American Red Cross. Bayshore's quota is $125, and an official worker will soon knock on your door for your share; so start saving up those pennies. It's for a good cause.

County Fire Warden Junior College Talk

B. L. Werder, county fire warden, will speak at the San Mateo Junior College, Tuesday evening of next week, on "San Mateo County Forests and Why They Should be Preserved."

The talk is one of the Tuesday evening series of discussions dealing with San Mateo County and is open to the general public. It starts at 7:30 o'clock.

Jaysee Members Of State Honor Club

Fifteen graduates are listed as life members of the state honor society for junior colleges as a result of fine grades made at San Mateo Junior College. Radio Club members will attempt to contact numerous short wave stations during a radio contest this month that takes in contestants in America, Hawaii, and the Philippine Islands.

The college football team draws a bye this week and meets Marin at San Mateo, November 19, in a Friday afternoon game.

Phantom Again Pot Shots At Autos

Paul Nunziati, proprietor of a Burlingame market, reported to South San Francisco police, Friday evening of last week, that as he was driving home he heard two shots near Brisbane.

He said he was afraid to stop, and continued on for a mile or so, then inspected his truck. He discovered one bullet hole in a fender, another in the running board, he stated.

CLEAN MOTOR NOW

When rainy weather approaches it is a good plan to have the outside of the motor thoroughly cleaned.

Oil, grease, and grit accumulations often cover badly worn or leaky insulation, thereby contributing to short circuits and other motor troubles.

Clean Comics That Will Amuse Both Old and Young

Improving the Time
Plumber—Well, here I am at last. Sorry I've been so long. Householder (three feet deep in water)—Oh, that's all right. While we've been waiting for you I've taught my wife to swim.

Modern Miss
"Well, Mary," said the mistress to her new maid, "I hope that you will prove to be an efficient servant."
"If you please, madam," came the reply, "I should prefer to be called a paid guest."

Magistrate (to talkative prisoner)—Will you stop talking and allow me to get in a short sentence?

Paltry Offer
He was the club bore and heartily detested. Rushing into the secretary's room and fuming with rage, he shouted: "I have just been offered $50 to resign from the club. What shall I do?"
The secretary was quite calm and replied, "Hold on a bit. You'll get a better offer."

30 MINUTES AFTER Eating-Drinking ALKALIZE

The fastest way to "alkalize" is to carry your alkalize with you. That's what the thousands do now that genuine Phillips' comes in tiny, peppermint flavored tablets—in a flat tin for pocket or purse. Then you are always ready. Use it this way. Take 2 Phillips' tablets—equal in "alkalizing" effect to 2 teaspoonfuls of liquid Phillips' from the bottle. At once you feel "gas," nausea, "over-crowding" from hyper-acidity begin to ease. "Acid headaches," "acid breath," "over-acid stomachs" are corrected at the source. This is the quick way to ease your own distress—avoid offense to others.

Good Work
There's many a good bit o' work done with a sad heart.—George Eliot.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery. Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

"But I hadn't known."
"You suspected that there was one, didn't you? You and Jed Stewart came to live in the Other House to watch me, didn't you? Do you think that I have forgotten that you called me a schemer?"

"This seems to be turning into a question and answer period. Suppose you let me tell my side of the story. Sit down, please."

"I prefer to stay here. Go on. I hope it doesn't take long. I have a lot to do before I leave in the morning—sorry to have to ask to let the furnishings stay here until Mother gets back, but—"

"Don't be so breathless, dearest."
"I'm not breathless, and I'm not your dearest. I wish you would say what you forced your way in here to say—and go."

"All right, remember, you asked for it. I came to say that after I knew who you were that day in Jed's office, I didn't believe that you had used 'undue influence' with my aunt. I admit that for a while I tried to fool myself, but I couldn't keep it up. I didn't open my house because I wanted to 'watch' you. I decided to do it on Thanksgiving day, because I—liked you and your 'whole darn family.' As the weeks passed, Jed and I were sure that if the second will had not been destroyed, Henri knew where it was. Not knowing its contents hampered us."

"But you know now?"
"Yes. And it hurts infernally to think that you should have been drawn into this sordid mix-up."

"Why shouldn't I be? It's what might be called poetic justice, isn't it? Didn't I start the trouble when I went to Lookout House to see your aunt the first time? I'd been warned that business and friendship won't mix any better than oil and water. Now I know it. You had suspected for weeks that I had no right to your aunt's money, and yet you and Jed Stewart let me keep on spending and spending. When I think of those two cars I bought I almost lose my mind. How can I ever pay it back?"

"Pay it back! Don't be foolish. There is no question of paying it back. Have you forgotten that Mary Amanda Dane left an income to you?"

"You don't think for an instant, do you, that I would accept a cent of that money? Would you take any from me when I tried to divide with you? I'm surprised, I'm really surprised that you don't play the martyr and ask me to marry you."

"No. I shan't ask you to marry me. I've made a lot of mistakes in my life, but, believe me, I've learned enough not to make that one."

"His cool denial hurt Brooke intolerably. He hated her, she told herself. Why shouldn't he?"

"In the library a while ago you told Lucette you were leaving here because you had accepted an offer. Are you engaged to Jerry Field?"
A gate in the wall! A way out without letting him know that she cared, how desperately she cared for him. She laughed.

"I—Here come Sam and Lucette. They are stamping snow from their feet outside as a warning that they are about to interrupt our conference. Amusing, isn't it?"

"Amusing to you, perhaps. It isn't to me."

Sam's face was as red as the fire as he and Lucette entered the room.

"Sorry to interrupt, but—"

"Don't apologize."

"I'm not apologizing." His face went from red to crimson. "I'm only trying to explain, Brooke, that the inspector's walking the floor and gnashing his teeth and muttering something about keeping the Law waiting. He wants you, Mark, and he wants you quick."

"I'm going," Mark Trent paused on the threshold. "Good-night, Brooke. We'll finish our talk tomorrow."

CHAPTER XVI

"We'll finish our talk tomorrow."

A month had passed since Mark Trent had flung those words as he, since she had left Lookout House. They had echoed to the accompaniment of the whir of the wings of the great plane in which she had flown south at the urgency and the expense of Carston's Inc.; they had intruded in business hours; they had fitted like wraiths through her dreams.

The days slid past breathlessly. She was conscious of a sort of breathless urge to keep up with something which was escaping her.

Keep up with what, she asked herself, as in the flower-scented dressing room of Carston's, Inc. she slipped out of the green organza number she had been modeling and into a frock of cool yellow linen. She was looking out unseeing at the palm-bordered white street when Madame Celeste entered. Her thin white frock rested Brooke's eyes after the rainbow collection she had put on and off for the last two hours.

"You done noble, cherie," the woman approved heartily.

There was something in her nasal twang as refreshing as a breeze from a thousand New England hills blowing through this tropical paradise.

"That last customer is one of the richest girls in the country. She ordered all the gowns you modeled. You look kind of tired, you've a right to, cherie, after landing that whale of an order. Get some lunch here, go home and rest until four, then come back. You will dress here, the society models will dress at the Shaw's sports house. Sidone will be there to help them. You'll be the only professional mannequin, but I wouldn't trust an amateur to show that wedding gown. The charity fete begins at five. The wedding party will be the last feature of the style show. Look your best. We expect that some prospective bride will snap up the whole outfit when she sees you walk up the ribbon and flower-bordered aisle in that heavenly white satin veiled in a mist of tulle. You'll make a ravishing bride, cherie; it will be your last appearance, so knock their eyes out."

The words "last appearance" penetrated the turmoil in Brooke's mind.

"Last appearance! What do you mean?"
Madame Celeste twisted her amethyst beads. "Cherie, don't go white on me. You know business hasn't been too good, and I have my orders. After the fashion show I'm to hand you a check for your commissions and a month's pay and you're through."

"Last Appearance! What Do You Mean?"

"But—but I thought I had sold a lot of frocks since I came."

"You have, and you can search me for the boss's reasons. Never knew him to turn a trick like this before—but, I ask you, is any business being run as it ever was run before? I'll tell the world it isn't. I'm terribly sorry to lose you."

For an instant, emotion threatened damage to the enameled calm of the woman's face.

Brooke was still puzzling over the dismissal when she reached the small Bermuda-type house, with its whitewashed roof and walls built around two sides of a patio, in which she had been living since she had come to Palm Beach, and entered her room.

She changed from the yellow cotton frock to white shantung pajamas. She picked up letters from a desk, pushed open a window, stepped out on the gallery and breathed deeply of the light thin air.

She opened a letter from Lucette. For the first two pages the word "Jerry" monopolized space; to even a feeble-minded person it would be evident that Jerry Field was leading in a long stag line.

Brooke was glad of that, but how did Lucette manage to take on all the festivities and be fit for her work in the morning? As if she had anticipated the question, Lucette wrote, with words heavily underlined for emphasis:

"After this evening I'll cut out the night spots. There's nothing in them for me."

"So stop worrying about little sister, darling, and get this: I want to be like you, Brooke. You don't smoke, you don't drink, and yet I've never seen a man who, when introduced to you, didn't stand a little straighter, fuss with his tie, and get that I've-found-her-at-last look in his eyes; and you're grand fun and the life of the party."

"There, you have the inside story of my life, so what? Never thought I would let you know how I adored you—bad for you—but here it is. 'Lucette.'"

"P. S. News flash! Sam's play may be produced any day. Its predecessor is folding up; it was a terrible flop."

Brooke shut her eyes to keep back tears. She had known that Lucette loved her, but that she set her on a pedestal was unbelievable. As to that "I've-found-her-at-last" look in a man's eyes, she should have seen Mark Trent's when he had called her a "schemer" in Jed Stewart's office.

Why think of it? Hadn't she plenty of happier things to think of? She glanced at the clock. Sam's play might be produced any day. She had lost her job. She was free to go to New York! Could she afford it? Why did that grubby question have to pop up to take the joy out of life? Of course she would go. She had flown to Palm Beach at the expense of Carston's Inc. She would take a bus in return on her own. She would go tonight, go on to a new adventure in living.

Tingling with excitement, she telephoned for a reservation on the night bus; packed a small trunk to be sent by express; folded her silver evening frock and accessories into the air luggage suitcase which Carston's Inc. had provided. She would want the gala clothes for the premiere—thrilling thought. She laid out an amethyst tweed suit with crimson scarf and beret, to wear on the journey. It would be cold when she reached New York.

All ready and somewhere to go! She glanced at the clock. There was time for a swim before she started for the style-show. It would set her up and refresh her. She must look her best for her positively last Palm Beach appearance.

She slipped into the white water-frock and caught up a beach coat. Life was gloriously worth while even if the man one loved did think one a "schemer," she told herself, as she ran down the steps which led to the patio.

She was humming a snatch of gay song as she crossed the strip of yellow sand steeping in golden sunlight which the march of fashion had left behind. Arms extended, she slid into the sparkling water. It parted. Buoyant, foamy, it closed over her. Marvelous feeling. This would stabilize her mind, drown haunting memories. She swam with quick strokes, turned, floated, came back arm over arm, and, dripping with coolness, waded out to the shore.

A man rose from the shadow of the dark hibiscus hedge outside the patio. Its scarlet flowers seemed to nod at her in amused derision as she stopped in surprise. Mark Trent! This was the cue for cool sophistication.

He held out the beach coat she had dropped on the sand.

"Put this on, Brooke. Let's sit here. I want to talk to you and we may be interrupted inside."

"How did you know where I was?"

"I've been playing round with Lucette, more or less. Saw Sam when I came through New York."

"Sam! How was he?"

"Nerves taut as violin strings, otherwise in great shape."

"When does his play open?"

"Day after tomorrow."

"So soon!"

"Why that sudden look of horror?"

"It wasn't horror, it was—I've lost my job and I had planned to leave here tonight by bus, but traveling that way I can't possibly make New York in time for the premiere of 'Islands Arise.'"

"I know that you've lost your job. I had a talk with your boss before I left the city. He agreed with me that you shouldn't miss the opening of Sam's play."

"You mean that you told him to fire me? What right have you to interfere in my life?"

"The right of a sort of guardian; didn't Aunt Mary Amanda so request in that last will?" Eyes on a pelican fishing in shallow water, he accused:

"You haven't answered Jed's letters notifying you that the amount of income you had been receiving from my aunt's estate would be deposited monthly to your account as usual. I had to come to find out if you had received them."

Brooke sprang to her feet. Her beach coat slipped off. Slim and golden-skinned in her white water-frock, she dug pink toes into the hot sand.

"I didn't answer because you both know without being told that I won't touch that money."

Mark Trent loomed over her. "Put this on again," he commanded grimly. "Why won't you touch that money?"

Brooke thrust her arms into the beach coat he held and stuck her unsteady hands into the pockets.

"Would you take a cent of Mary Amanda Dane's when I thought it mine? Didn't you say it, that snobby voice of yours the afternoon we met in Jed Stewart's office?"

"Hope you'll enjoy the house and fortune," Miss Reyburn. Now it's my turn:

"I hope you'll enjoy the house and fortune," Mr. Trent. I'm sure Daphne Field will be crazy about it."

"Daphne!" He caught her wrist in a grip which hurt. "Where did you get that crazy idea?"

How crude how unbenevolently crude she had been to mention Daphne's name, Brooke accused herself hotly. But, having blundered, she'd better see it through with the light touch.

"From a letter from Mrs. Gregory the other day. It was full of news all about Mark Trent and Daphne Field, the current lady of his heart. She's a grand gossip."

Mark Trent's eyes drew Brooke's like a magnet. Was the light in his laughter?

"Anne Gregory is more than a gossip; she's a strategist. I haven't spoken to Daphne Field since the night of the play and she knows it." He loosened his hold on her wrist. "What are you doing this afternoon?"

Serving Omelets.—Omelets should be placed on hot platters to keep them from falling.

Sealing Fish.—Fish may be sealed easily by first dipping them into boiling water for a minute.

A Darning Ball.—A discarded electric light bulb makes a good darning ball.

Removing Blueing Spots.—Blueing spots on white clothing can be removed by boiling in clear water.

Inexpensive Stew.—Chop two onions and a large carrot finely, and cut a pound of neck lamb into small pieces. Put into a saucepan with one cup macaroni broken into small lengths, cover with warm water and season. Let it simmer gently for one and a half hours.

Whipping of Cream.—If whipped cream will not stand up, it is often due to the fact that the cream is not sufficiently chilled. It is important, too, to have a heavy cream of the right butter fat (20 to 30 per cent) and 12 to 24 hours old. The cream must be cold, and is best beaten in a cold container.

Shoes Must Have Air.—Do not keep your shoes in the boxes in which they were delivered. Shoes require air to preserve them and they should never be kept in an air-tight box. Keep them in a shoe bag.

Save Table Surface.—If you will place a folded cloth under a dish which contains foods to be beaten you'll find the table surface will be saved many marks and the dish will be kept steady.

Ox-Tail Pie.—Wash ox tail in salted water and joint; put into pan, cover with water, and simmer until almost cooked. Line bottom and sides of pie dish with slices of raw potato sprinkled with pepper and salt. Cover with strips of bacon, then place ox tail in center and pour in stock; season and cover with more slices of potato. Cover with pastry and bake in a quick oven.

He is quite a sight in his kilt hiking along with the rest of the boys who comprise the Highland Drum Corps of the Boy Scouts of America. . . . His mom, Vera Blair, is sporting a spankin new fur coat. . . . Last Sunday members of our fire department put a new Dodge truck through a rigid test by traveling about the upper Brisbane roads; our roads are such that ordinary requirements in fire apparatus are taboo. Thusly tests are made to find out the exact requirements in designing a fire truck for our locality. The main factor is to have a truck with a proper wheel base that will allow it to negotiate the turns in our upper roads and yet be so constructed as to enable men and equipment to be transported safely and speedily. . . . The present No 2 has been made over into an auxiliary water carrier. . . . The big question around town is "What certain well known citizen of Brisbane is ducking a process server"; he hasn't been home in weeks. . . . Frances Porbst had to move plenty fast to escape serious injury when the car in which she was riding on the Golden Gate bridge burst into flames. The car was completely destroyed before the bridge fire department could extinguish the flames; quite a close one. . . . Poor Stan Hopkins is a sad man these days; he borrowed all his wife's savings to buy stock and the recent fluctuations has left him with a heavy feeling; such is the fate of those who played the market. . . . Ruth Wells will be on Uncle Benny's amateur hour within a few months, having made a good impression when she tried out a couple of weeks ago. . . . Finis.

DALY CITY HOST EIGHT CARS IN HIGHWAY CRASH AT SAN MATEO

Brief Outlines Given By Members And Chairmen Of Work In Various Departments

At the invitation of the northern section of the county, officers and chairmen of the Seventeenth District, Parent-Teacher Association, assembled in the Little Theater of the Jefferson Union High School, Thursday of last week, for an informal conference.

Mrs. Grace Hill, president of the Woodrow Wilson School, acting as chairman for the afternoon, welcomed the visitors and then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Elmer L. Miller, president of Seventeenth District.

The following members gave a brief outline of the work in their departments afterwards answering questions to clarify the required work: Mrs. J. M. Foley, child hygiene chairman; Mrs. W. R. Dunn, recording secretary; Mrs. L. H. Rankin, parliamentary; Mrs. G. N. Kirkbride, character education chairman; Mrs. C. D. Pauw, homemaking chairman; Mrs. J. C. Ledwith, study group chairman; Mrs. Stella Jensen, fifth vice president and director of the department of education; Mrs. A. T. Hollingsworth, art chairman; Mrs. C. M. Bandtel, accompanist; Mrs. Lloyd Schwab, exceptional child chairman; Mrs. Frank J. Steele, fourth vice president and director of public welfare; Mrs. Holbrook Bonney, safety chairman; Mrs. Holton Hornbeck, third vice president and director of the department of extension; Mrs. R. L. Holder, chairman of P. T. A. in high schools; Mrs. George Bruns, membership chairman; Mrs. Jeppha A. Wade, second vice president and director of the department of organization; Mrs. C. S. Hower, emblem chairman; Mrs. C. N. Underwood, Founder's Day book chairman; Mrs. A. J. Wehner, magazine subscriptions chairman; Mrs. B. D. Ralston, first vice president in charge of chairmen at large; and Mrs. Don D. Davis, publicity chairman.

The hostess units for the conference from the northern section were Colma, Woodrow Wilson, Jefferson Union High School, Crocker and General Pershing. The remaining units included in the conference were Bayshore, Brisbane, Grand Avenue, Martin Primary, Millbrae, Northbrae, San Pedro, South San Francisco Junior-Senior High School. Light refreshments were served following the meeting, with Mrs. Sanders as chairman in charge.

Appreciation was expressed for the opportunity of serving these units of the northern section of San Mateo County and Mrs. Miller gave credit to them for a large share of the real accomplishments in the interests of child welfare work done by the Parent-Teacher Association in this county.

JEFF KNOCKS OVER SEQUOIA IN TIGHT GAME

Contest On Home Field Productive Of Many Thrilling Situations

Mighty Sequoia's high ranking football team received a jolt which knocked them out of the league running when they lost to an inspired Jefferson team, Friday of last week, on the local high school field.

The first quarter took its toll on the heavy Sequoia team when Simpson, Compagno and Wright ran them dizzy with sweeps around end. A long pass, completed from Simpson to Compagno on the six yard line, gave the Indians their first chance to score. Simpson ran around end to the 1 yard line, from where McCune bucked it over. McCune's attempt to convert was blocked and so the score remained 6-0 until the half whistle blew.

Moving from the 39 yard line to the Jefferson 18 yard stripe, Sequoia was deep in Jefferson territory for the first time. What looked to be an end to this drive turned out to be Sequoia's greatest break when Dick Wilson intercepted a Sequoia pass on his own four yard line, but on an attempted lateral the ball was fumbled and a Sequoia man pounced on it on the Jefferson two yard line. The visitors could not be held off from this point, and crashed in on their second play. The important conversion was good, and Sequoia took the lead 7-6.

The fourth quarter saw Jefferson bombarding with a series of passes, but they were staved off. With two more minutes to go, McCune was rushed into the game to attempt a drop kick, which seemed to be Jefferson's last chance. This was indeed a spot, but McCune came through with a beautiful 40 yard drop kick to win the game.

The whole Indian team, although outweighed, outcharged and outgained their heavier opponents. Compagno, McCune and Simpson brought the crowd to their feet many times with thrilling runs and beautiful passes. Simpson capably took care of the kicking and kept the Sequoia team at bay with consistent boots of long yardage. Combined with good blocking by Wright, McCune, Compagno, Olson and Clark the runs of Simpson, McCune and Compagno looked excellent.

Recovers Stolen Auto In Daly City

Mrs. Olga Tadwick, 801 Fillmore street, San Francisco, discovered that her automobile had been stolen from that address.

On Monday of this week the car was picked up on the hills in the Crocker Tract and returned to the owner by Chief of Police James G. Reardon of the Daly City Police Department.

The machine was badly wrecked, having a smashed windshield broken headlights and other damaged parts. The weapon used was, apparently, a large stone, which was found lying on the hood of the car.

DIES AS SHE ASKS AID

"I am having a heart attack; I want to see a doctor," said Mrs. Laverne Usher, 35, employee at the Hillsborough home of former Governor C. C. Young, when she walked into Mills Memorial Hospital, Monday morning of this week.

She then slumped to the floor, dead.

Ramsay MacDonald Dies On Shipboard

Sir Ramsay MacDonald

Sir Ramsay MacDonald, 71, Britain's first Labor prime minister, who died suddenly while en route to South America in search of what he called "the most elusive of all forms of happiness—rest." His body will be taken off the ship at Bermuda and returned for burial either in England or Lismore, Scotland, MacDonald's birthplace. During his political career MacDonald was England's "most loved and later most hated" figure.

Executive Board Of Seventeenth District Meets

The executive board of the Seventeenth District, Parent-Teacher Association, held its regular monthly meeting at the Burlingame Library, Monday afternoon of this week. Calling the assembly to order, Mrs. Elmer L. Miller, president, again brought to the attention of the group the importance of stressing life memberships in the local units, explaining that life membership is not just an honorary presentation to a member of the association, but is the means of providing some students with higher education. "In San Mateo County alone, there are sixteen individuals provided with this opportunity of learning through the money derived from life memberships," said Mrs. Miller.

While officers were attempting to clear the highway after the first accident, three cars driven by Morris Estes, Redwood City; Raymond Sanruetta, 110 Aragon boulevard, San Mateo; and George Kimball, San Francisco, piled up as the Estes and Sanruetta cars collided head on and the Kimball car struck the rear of the Sanruetta machine. Miss Marge Maorne, 21, Palo Alto, a passenger in the Estes car, was injured and taken to Mills hospital.

Adding more wreckage to the already jumbled mess, a car driven by Everett Callopy, San Francisco, stopped in the center of the highway in an attempt to turn into Howard avenue and was struck by the car of Carl Hill, 1519 Bernal avenue, uBrlingame, noing north, and that of Raymond Espinoza, San Francisco, traveling south. No one was injured in the last three-car tie up.
